The Loft
Writing Center Plus

The primary mission of The Loft Writing Center Plus is to enhance student skills in English and world languages through individual and small-group tutoring in a positive, multicultural environment. Loft services are available free of charge to enrolled students with an NSCC ID card.

Writing

Students come to The Loft for assistance with any type of writing project, for any class, and at any stage of the writing process—from brainstorming and outlining to revising and polishing. Students receive one-to-one help from our tutors, practice writing skills using computer software, and may even submit their writing online using our specialized Web form (<http://www.northseattle.edu/services/loft/loft-form.html>).

English Skills

The Loft helps students improve their reading, note-taking, and study skills, and guides them in the preparation of oral reports. Tutors, computer software, and online links are available to all students who want to acquire or practice specialized English skills.

ESL

Non-native speakers of English at NSCC come to The Loft for assistance with any class. One-on-one tutoring, group tutoring, specialized classes, and software programs are used to help students for whom English is not a first language.

World Languages

Tutoring is available in Spanish, French, German, Japanese, and Chinese, including one-on-one tutors, facilitated conversation groups, and foreign language software.

Services at The Loft

All Loft services are free of charge to any student enrolled at North Seattle Community College. Loft hours of operation during Fall Quarter 2004 are as follows:

Monday - Thursday	8:30am – 6:30pm
Friday	8:30am – 1:30pm
Saturday	Closed
Sunday	12:30pm – 4:30pm

If you have not been asked about providing your class with a Loft orientation, please contact us at either of the following numbers to schedule one. We are always looking for ways to make The Loft do more for our faculty and students.
